

Introducing Infinity[®] from Marvin

Infinity—the low-maintenance, durable, no-hassle replacement window

Timeless and Timely

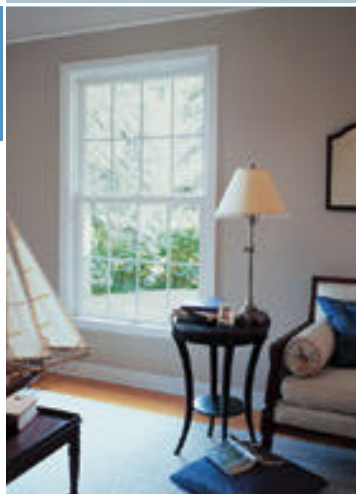

Searching for replacement windows that are attractive, durable and virtually maintenance-free? It's time you discovered Infinity[®] from Marvin. Infinity replacement windows are made inside and out with Ultrex[®]—a pultruded fiberglass material that outperforms and outlasts vinyl and other window materials.

Low Maintenance

Once these windows are installed, there is virtually nothing left for you to do except enjoy the view—the Stone White interior and exterior require no finishing after installation, and you'll never need to sand, scrape or paint Ultrex in the future.

Energy Efficiency

Ultrex also provides an insulated barrier against extreme weather temperatures, keeping your home comfortable, and reducing heating and cooling costs. And Infinity windows come standard with energy efficient Low E II glazings and argon gas.

Infinity windows are crafted by traditional wood window experts for replacement solutions that are as beautiful and enduring as your home.

INFINITY[®]
from MARVIN
Replacement Windows

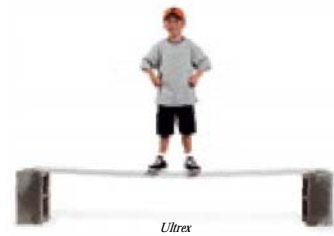

Ultrex is pultruded fiberglass—thin strands of strong glass cables saturated with specially compounded resins that result in a remarkably durable material.

Ultrex®—

A timeless solution, literally.

Infinity® from Marvin windows are made from Ultrex, inside and out. Ultrex is durable, non-corrosive, has low conductivity, and is virtually maintenance-free. The superior strength of Ultrex allows the Infinity window frame profile to be narrower than those with frames made of vinyl or wood, giving you more visible glass area. And no matter how extreme the temperatures, Ultrex stays square and true.

Ultrex is 8x stronger than vinyl!

It's really an easy choice.

Infinity window replacement is truly hassle-free. Your Infinity installing retailer will take care of all aspects of the replacement process, from measuring to installation to clean-up. And, you'll have beautiful new windows with minimum disruption to your household.

All Infinity windows are backed by the trusted Marvin name and covered by a limited warranty that guarantees they'll remain free from defects in manufacturing, materials and workmanship for up to 10 years from the purchase date.

We think the more you learn about Infinity from Marvin, the easier your decision will become. We encourage you to visit your authorized Infinity from Marvin installing retail showroom or schedule an in-home demonstration today and experience our unparalleled windows first-hand.
